MESSAGE FROM ARCHBISHOP DENNIS SCHNURR

It is undeniable that we live in a very divided world. However, it does not have to be that way. After all, Christ, and only Christ, can bring light to a land of darkness. Christ, and only Christ, can bring unity where division and discord exist. That is the message of the three Scripture passages today.

In the first reading, the Prophet Isaiah offers a vision of a future where the Messiah will bring abundant joy and great rejoicing: "The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; upon those who dwell in the land of gloom a light has shone."

St. Matthew, in today's Gospel, shows how Isaiah's Messianic vision was fulfilled in Christ. Living in Capernaum by the sea, in the region of Zebulun and Naphtali, Jesus preaches the coming of the kingdom and cures every disease and illness among the people. However, He does not do this alone. He invites the brothers, Simon and Andrew, both fishermen, to "come and follow." They leave their nets and obey. He then calls another pair of brothers, James and John, who leave their behind boat and father to join Him.

Today Christ calls all of us, as members of the one united Body of Christ, to continue to bring light and healing to a dark and hurting world. One of the very concrete ways we do that throughout the 19 counties of our local Church is through the annual Catholic Ministries Appeal. The CMA supports Catholic Charities and Catholic Social Services; St. Rita School for the Deaf; Campus Ministry, Hospital Ministry, and Prison Ministry. The CMA also supports the Center for the New Evangelization; Retired Priests; and Mount St. Mary's Seminary and School of Theology. These six vital ministries teach, feed, and heal our brothers and sisters every day.

In some ways, the numbers tell the tale: Catholic Charities of Southwestern Ohio served 17,000 families last year through its Food for All program. Catholic Social Services of the Miami Valley distributed more than one million pounds of food through the Choice Food Pantry. Thousands of young adults were reached through New Evangelization programs. St. Rita School for the Deaf has more than 200 students enrolled. Our seminary has 83 men in formation to be priests, 46 of whom are studying for the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, including seven who will be ordained for the Archdiocese of Cincinnati this spring.

Beyond those numbers, however, the impact of the CMA ministries may be affecting you and those close to you more than you realize. For example: The retired priests who are helping out in your parish or hospital chaplains and volunteers who may have brought the Sacraments and pastoral care to you, to a friend, or to a relative. At the University of Cincinnati, Wright State University, or Miami University, the CMA is there supporting campus ministry and helping students live their faith at what may be a challenging time in their lives. Engaged couples will get a solid preparation for the Sacrament of Holy Matrimony through the Center for the New Evangelization. And someone in your family or in your neighborhood who needs pregnancy or parenthood support after choosing life, or who need help after an adoption, can find that assistance from Catholic Charities or Catholic Social Services.

When you and I support the Catholic Ministries Appeal, we partner together to respond to the call of Christ which we heard in the Gospel today: "Come follow me." St. Paul further encourages us in his letter to the Galatians, from which we draw the 2023 CMA theme. "Let us not grow tired of doing good, for in due time we shall reap our harvest, if we do not give up... So then, let us do good to all." (Gal 6: 9, 10b) This is what brings light into the darkness. This is what restores a land overshadowed by death.

To all of you who contributed in the past, I am very grateful. I thank you on behalf of the thousands of individuals who have benefited. I invite you to continue your support. And if you have not donated to CMA in the past, I invite you to prayerfully consider a donation. "So then, let us do good to all." Together, as the Body of Christ, we can do so much more than we can do alone. Thank you, and God bless!

Do you enjoy history? Have a knack for documenting and organizing records? Emmanuel Catholic Church is looking for a parishioner to lead in the effort of organizing existing records and documenting new milestones. This would be a volunteer position. Hours and schedule are set by the volunteer. When working with existing records, work schedule would need to align with parish office hours. If interested, please contact Emmanuel at 937-228-2013 or emmparishoffice@gmail.com.

The Emmanuel Evangelization Commission is running a 4 session hands-on workshop on hard topics in evangelization. Our first night is on February 9th in the Emmanuel School building at 7pm. Alan Mostrom will be leading an open forum on evangelizing your fallen away loved ones. Bring your hard situations!

Perhaps you have found, tucked away on pp. 532-533 of our misalette, the treasure trove of common prayers with both English and Latin translations. Recently, the choir sang Roberto Remondi's (1851-1928) setting of "O Sacrum Convivium" (O Sacred Banquet), a prayer written by St. Thomas Aquinas: O Sacred Banquet, in which Christ is received, the memory of His passion is renewed, the mind is filled with grace, and the pledge of future glory is given to us. Amen.

Holy Father's Prayer Intention...For educators
We pray that educators may be credible witnesses, teaching fraternity rather than competition and helping the youngest and most vulnerable above all.

From the Joyful Noiseletter:

A Sunday school teacher began her lesson with a question:
"Boys and girls, what do we know about God?"
"He's an artist!" a little boy replied.
"Really. How do you know?" the teacher asked.
"Our Father, who does art in Heaven," the boy replied.
